Important Information

PREPARATION & INSTALLATION

Before you grout the stone, an appropriate impregnator must be used. This allows you to have the best possible construction site protection. Application of an impregnator does not change the natural appearance of the stone. Instead, it acts as a sealant resisting grout dye absorption which eases the removal of excess grout residue and protects against stains.

MAINTENANCE & CARE

Liquid poultice can be used to clean the surface. Generally, it is available in markets and hardware stores and is safe for almost all natural stone floors. You can make use of a floor machine, a brush and a wet vacuum to clean up the floor. If the area that you have to clean is very small, you can achieve your purpose with a hand brush, otherwise you need an automatic scrubber for larger areas. If you find that your floor gets exposed to oils and greases, you need additional protection. You will find a chemical generally termed as "Pre Treat" that is applied to the surface after grout removal. The use of this added protection before using an impregnator makes the porous surface of the limestone much more resistant to staining materials, especially oils.

TYPES OF MATERIAL

- CERAMIC: Ceramic is a man-made material made from clay that has been permanently hardened by heat in a kiln then glazed over. It comes in a myriad of colors and/or patterns. They can also have different textures such as glossy, matte, and crackle. It is not as dense as porcelain; thus, it is not recommended for floors.
- LIMESTONE: Limestone is an all-natural material that is millions of years old. This stone is created from the breakdown of other materials, such as sedimentary rocks or shells. It commonly forms in clear, tepid, shallow marine waters. Limestone shows little graining or texture which makes it much smoother than other natural stones.
- MARBLE: Marble is a metamorphic rock that is millions of years old and forms from limestone. Metamorphism results in pure white marble. The colors of swirls or veins shown are from minerals, such as iron oxides, silt, sand or clay. Marble offers a sleek, clean look and is easy to maintain. Marble is highly admired for its' charm, durability, and resistance to fire and erosion.
- TRAVERTINE: Travertine is a natural stone that offers unique features that are unmatched in other types of stone due to the difference in rock formation. Carbon dioxide evasion creates voids in the stone which makes travertine exhibit a beautiful rustic look. Travertine is available in many finishes including tumbled, honed, brushed, filled, unfilled, chiseled and polished.
- PORCELAIN: Porcelain is a man-made material made from clay that has been permanently hardened by heat in a kiln then glazed over. It comes in a myriad of colors and/or patterns. They can also have different textures such as glossy and matte. It is much denser than ceramic, thus it is recommended for all interior applications and sometimes exterior applications.

SURFACE TREATMENTS

Surface treatments use various hardening techniques to offer a way to tailor the surface properties of a material without changing the bulk properties. SpearTek Tile and Stone, LLC ("SpearTek Tile") provides honed, honed & filled, unfilled, brushed, tumbled, polished and split face surface treatments for our tile and stone products.

- HONED (H): A honed stone has a satin smooth finish with little or no gloss. If a honed stone is designated "unfilled" (UF), the surface may have visible natural cavities.
- BRUSHED (BR): A brushed stone is finished with a coarse wire brush producing a smooth, though slightly textured, matte finish.
- TUMBLED (TMBL): A tumbled stone has rounded edges and corners, often some surface pitting and a powdery finish.
- POLISHED (PO): A polished stone has the smoothest finish available on a tile. A polished stone will appear more saturated, have greater color depth and visible detail than other finishes in the same stone.
- SPLIT FACE (SPLT): A stone that is considered split face is literally split so that the surface of the stone exhibits a natural quarry texture.
- FILLED (F): If a stone is designated "filled" (F), any natural cavities in the stone have been filled with mortar mixture using fine ground powder of the same stone.

SHADE VARIATIONS

The color, shade, and pattern of all tiles varies to some degree from piece to piece and from production run to production run. In some tiles, these variations are very slight (barely noticeable) and in others they are very extreme (it might look like different color tiles in the same box). Since this wide variety in shading exists, it is important for you to be educated about the tile you are selling and for you to educate your customer.

As previously stated, the color shade of each tile can exhibit anything ranging from a slight variation to an extreme variation. For that reason, it is important to review at least several pieces from the same production run to determine acceptable shade variations. Any questions or concerns about your tile selections should be clarified prior to installing.
